Proposes To Go Back 10 Years

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Senators appeared to have reached an agreement today on a proposal to review U. S. policy in the Middle East over the last 10 years.

Members of the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees plan to vote on the question tomorrow. Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) and others said they thought the proposal would be approved.

This appeared to improve the prospects for passage by a good margin of President Eisenhower's Middle East resolution in the Senate. The President is asking for standby authority to use U. S. troops in the Middle East if necessary to repel Communist aggression. He also wants approval of an initial 200 million dollar economic aid program for the area.

Compromise Reached

As originally proposed by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark), the policy review would have gone back to January 1952, taking in the last year of the Truman administration and the first four years of the Eisenhower administration.

The two Senate committees discussed the proposal behind closed doors today and it was reported they agreed on taking the review as far back as 1946, the first year of the post World War II era.

The revised proposal calls on the State Department to provide "a chronological statement, together with classified (secret) and unclassified supporting documents, telegrams and the like, of all the events that have contributed significantly to the present situation in the Middle East."

Amendment Ban Favored

The Eisenhower resolution went to the House floor today with a recommendation that it be accepted or rejected "as is."

The House Rules Committee voted in favor of considering the resolution under a "closed rule," which prohibits amendments and limits debate to one day.

The action taken by the Executive Council of the AFL-CIO with respect to these matters does not in any way alter our position," Beck's statement said.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said he personally drafted the policy statement when he first heard of union officials taking the Fifth Amendment to dodge testifying at recent preliminary Senate hearings.

Final Vote 22 To 1

Under the Fifth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution a person may refuse to testify on grounds it might tend to incriminate him.

Only Beck, among the AFL-CIO council members, voted against Meany's proposal. Two other council members, Presidents William McFetridge of the Building Service Employees Union, and Maurice Hutcheson, one of the Carpenters, reportedly abstained. Two others were absent. But the final vote was 22-1.

James R. Hoffa of Detroit, a Teamsters Union vice president and himself the target of several congressional probes in the past, said in advance the teamsters would pay no attention to any AFL-CIO policy such as that adopted today. Hoffa, however, declined comment after the council acted.

West Europe Fails To Complete Atom Pool, Market Plans

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Jan. 28 (P)—Diplomats of six West European nations failed today to complete plans for a common market and an atomic pool. They declared optimistically, however, that they hope to get the job done in the next few weeks.

A three-day weekend meeting here—intended to finish treaties on the two subjects—demonstrated what a long way there was to go. Nevertheless, most of those who took part expressed satisfaction with progress made to date.

Conference Chairman Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium told reporters after the final meeting that the six foreign ministers would get together again here Feb. 4. He said French Premier Guy Mollet has invited the prime ministers of all proposed members to confer with him in Paris Feb. 12.

Delegates from France, West Germany, Italy, Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg hope to be able to sign treaties which would set up the revolutionary new plans by that date.

The common market would establish a vast free trade zone among the 160 million people of the six countries over a transitional period of 12 to 17 years. The atom treaty would pool their nuclear programs in an organization known as Euronam. The atomic program appeared nearest completion as the conference ended.

France won agreement that a 240 million dollar uranium separation plant would be built. This meant that Europe would not be dependent on the United States for nuclear material. If it came from the United States, American law would limit use to peaceful purposes.

The foreign ministers are expected to toss the immensely involved problem of integrating and financing France's overseas terri-

Israel Blames Sinai Stalemate On Egyptians

JERUSALEM, Israel Sector, Jan. 28 (P)—Israel sought today to saddle Egypt with full responsibility for the Sinai stalemate and pressed plans for her own development of the Gaza Strip.

Premier David Ben-Gurion's government—digging in against a barrage of criticism for disregarding U.N. demands that its troops complete withdrawal from Egyptian territory—pointed in justification to what the Israelis call a record of broken promises from Cairo.

Ben-Gurion himself shunted aside a question whether Israel could stand up against military or economic penalties that might be imposed if he maintains his brigades on the Aqaba Gulf coast to assure freedom of the waterway between the Red Sea and the Israeli port of Eilat.

"We will cross that bridge when we come to it," he said in an interview. "In the meantime, it is our sincere hope that the U.N. Assembly will act to promote peace rather than to increase tensions. Israel does not take lightly a possible expression of difference between it and the U.N., but we also expect that body to act fairly."

It was only yesterday that his Cabinet approved in principle various development projects suggested by local authorities in the Gaza Strip, wrested from Egypt's control in the fall invasion.

A highly placed government official said irrigation is proposed for the Strip by a $500,000 extension of the Yarkon-Negev water pipeline. Israeli experts have prepared for the planting of new crops, including cotton, peanuts, corn and castor beans, and are already marketing such standard products from the Strip as dates and citrus fruits.

The informant said Israel is determined to expand social and welfare services in Gaza, teeming with more than 200,000 Arab refugees under U.N. care since the Palestine war of 1948, and is opening the Strip's first maternity hospital in Gaza.

Army Flag Presented To House Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (P)—The Army, which waited from 1775 to 1936 to get its own official recognized flag, presented a handsome example of it to the House Armed Services Committee today.

The flag carries, in blue on a white field, the original coat of arms adopted in 1775 by the first U.S. War Department.

A red scroll identifies the banner as that of the U.S. Army.

Secretary of the Army Wilber Brucker made the presentation today. Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) said the flag would "serve us as a daily reminder of the contribution of the U.S. Army in preserving the freedom of America from 1775 to the present moment."

Ford Urges New Look At U.S.-China Relations

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28 (P)—Henry Ford II advocated today a new look at U.S. relations with Communist satellite nations, including Red China.

"Maybe the people of Red China are just as anxious to get rid of the yoke of communism as the Hungarians have demonstrated they were," Ford said in a speech prepared for delivery to the National Automobile Dealers Assn. convention.

"Shouldn't we give them a chance—or at least some alternative to their present ties with the Kremlin?" asked Ford, who was an alternate delegate to the United Nations in 1953.

Tawes, In Questionnaire, Seeks Demo Victory Plan

ANAPOLIS, Jan. 28 (P)—Comptroller J. Millard Tawes sent a unique questionnaire to 3,000 Maryland Democrats today, asking them "to throw some light on what we in the Democratic party need to achieve victory in 1958."

Tawes, who has acknowledged an ambition to be governor, said the results of the questionnaire will "have some bearing" on his plans. But he said his decision "will not depend entirely" on the results.

He said the personally financed venture, expected to cost about $500, was intended to give the Maryland Democratic party "a long, hard look at itself."

Noting that the party has not won a top statewide election in the last 10 years, despite a registration advantage of better than 2-1 over Republicans, he added:

"We must rigorously examine our past errors without fear or favor; and we must just as vigorously apply the corrective measures, no matter how painful they may be."

Tawes said the questionnaire was sent to every elected Democratic official in Maryland, national committee members in the counties and Baltimore City, national convention delegates and others who "have contributed time, effort and money" to the party.

The replies—signed and unsigned—will be made public on "let - the-chips-fall-where - they may" basis, he added.

The U. S. Air Force was established in 1907 as the aeronautical division of the Army signal corps.

One of 20 questions:

"What is your chief criticism of the Democratic party in Maryland today?"

The respondent is asked to check from among "lack of unity," "lack of leadership," "lack of new blood," "lack of issues."

Other questions ask whether young people and women are playing important enough roles in party activities; the relative importance of honesty, administrative efficiency, economy and new ideas in State government; what are considered the most important qualifications for gubernatorial and senatorial candidates (in that order); and which is "more important in a candidate"—speaking ability, hand-shaking ability, administrative ability, or his record.

Suspect Sought In Attack Case

RANDALLSTOWN, Md., Jan. 28 (P)—State Police said today they are hunting a suspect in the case of a petite blonde found injured Saturday night along a northern Maryland highway.

"We've gone as far as we can until we can get the man we're looking for," said Sgt. C. C. Zumbrun. "We've got a good suspect, and we know about where he ought to be."

The woman was found lying injured and hysterical in the Manchester area of Carroll County, just south of the Pennsylvania line. Police said her clothing was disarranged and underclothing was beside her.

Zumbrun said the woman told officers she met a man who was a casual acquaintance and got into his car. "She wound up being thrown out along the road when he tried to attack her," he added.

The woman's name is being withheld because of the nature of the case.

Police said a marriage certificate in her possession indicated she was married in Westminster in 1955, but her last address was Knoxville, Tenn.

Zumbrun said the woman had a swollen eye and bruises over her body.

Depends on the make, the model, and the year, of course. Every dealer tries to tell you his make is worth the most.

Here are the facts! The resale value of every make, model, and year is listed in the NADA Used Car Guide, the official "bible" of the industry. And here's what the NADA Guide shows:

"I listened to rumor!"

A used Studebaker is worth more than other cars in the low price field, model for model, year for year. For example, the 1956 Studebaker 4-door President has the highest average resale value of all comparable V8's in its price class—both in percentage and in actual dollars and cents.

Room For Both Clammers, Oystermen In Maryland Waters, Assembly Told

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 28 (AP)—There is room in Maryland waters for water resources," the Research Department frowned on permitting it throughout the Chesapeake Bay area immediately.

"Most of the conflicts" between the two groups could be resolved quickly, the Department concluded after more than a year's study, if representatives of the two sides would sit down and agree on accurate boundary lines for each.

Oystermen have been complaining that use of a hydraulic dredge by the clammers is ruining their beds.

The department reported that oysters beyond 75 feet of a dredged area are unharmed. It also told the Legislature that commercial catches of fish and crab have not declined since the clam dredging started in Maryland in 1952.

The main source of trouble has come from clammers dredging on charted oyster bars in violation of the law. However, the researchers said there are extenuating circumstances.

The oyster charts haven't been revised since 1912.

"There are areas now charted as natural oyster bars where there are few if any oysters," the department reported, "and conversely, there are areas not charted as natural oyster bars which produce commercial quantities of oysters."

Both industries will suffer economically if areas continue to be allocated on the basis of the old charts, the scientists informed the legislators.

They recommended that while a new survey of natural oyster bars is being made, all those interested get together and allocate bottoms. "No one now knows more about the locations of the commercially important resources of tidewater than the watermen who harvest them," the research department pointed out.

It foresees some areas of disagreement and in those cases suggested state agencies could act as arbitrators.

The new survey and self-determination of the bottoms were among 10 "of the more significant proposals" concerning clamming which the department studied. Some originated in the department and the others were suggested by outsiders.

A proposal to outlaw the clam dredge in all of Maryland brought adverse comment. The department felt it would settle only "a minor fraction of the conflict of interest," cause a current loss to tide-water economy estimated at 3½ million dollars, and kill a potential business of 8 million.

The dredges are legal now only in Calvert, Talbot and Queen Anne's counties. They dredged only 5 per cent of the bottoms open to them there last year.

While it found that clam dredging "does not constitute a signif-

Council Discusses State's Withholding Of City Funds

Withholding of the city's share day, said council had anticipated and Marietta streets. In addition, of state gasoline tax and motor $90,000 from these revenues during the fiscal year ending June 30. It has received $28,500 which means if no further payments are made, the city will be "in the red" by $61,500 by the end of the fiscal year.

According to Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz, the fund issue is the result of a $70,000 payment due on the Cumberland Thruway; $66,000 being withheld by the federal government from the state for local non-enforcement of parking regulations in connection with the Frederick Street improvement project; and another $47,000 due on the final phase of the Frederick improvement.

However, Police Commissioner William V. Keegan reported "Bedford Street parking regulations are being carried out."

He said Officer Henry Stitzer had made house-to-house calls advising residents about parking regulations between Decatur and in a statement yesterday.

Church Mortgage Burned

Rev. Everett W. Culp, pastor of First Methodist Church, and church officials are shown participating in a mortgage burning ceremony at the church Sunday during the morning worship service. The ceremony celebrated the liquidation of a $15,000 mortgage contracted in July 1955. Left to right are Mrs. Dayton Eversole, president of the WSCS; Mrs. Virgil Ice, financial secretary and treasurer; Arden Mellott, building fund treasurer; Robert Llewellyn, chairman of the Official Board; Rev. Culp; William Deremer, conference lay delegate; L. Hays Chamber Jr., chairman of the building committee; and Edward Yacenech, lay leader. An eight-acre tract of land in the 1700 block of Frederick Street has been purchased for a new church site and plans for the structure are being drawn up.

City Concerned Over Costs Of Flood Work

The Mayor and Council, still concerned over additional unanticipated costs of the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood control project, moved to prepare a qualified reply on accepting plans and specifications for Section No. 2 of the channel improvement of the Potomac River's North Branch.

While technical aspects and engineering may meet full approval of the city, council expressed itself as concerned over the possibility of additional costs which might result. It authorized City Attorney Thomas B. Finan, Finance Commissioner John J. Long and City Engineer Charles M. Nuzum to frame a reply to Lt. Col. John C. Mattina of the Corps of Engineers who had asked notification if plans are satisfactory.

Nuzum recommended that council approve the plans.

Principal items in the contract include construction of channel improvement for approximately one mile starting at the confluence of the North Branch and Wills Creek; construction of embankments for relocation of the new interchange tracks between the Western Maryland Railway and B&O Railroad; and construction of a two-span open deck plate girder railway bridge over the old C&O Canal locks below the Western Maryland passenger station.

The additional cost is merely a possibility but should it occur would amount to approximately $250,000. It would be the result of the interchange track location.

According to Nuzum, the filling in of the old C&O Canal bed where it borders the former mid-city ball park would be necessary and the city has a 48-inch sanitary sewer located on the old canal bed. He said tests will be made to determine if the sewer pipe will carry the 24-foot fill.

Tests next week by the Engineers will determine whether it will carry the extra load, whether it will be protected by concrete encasement or replaced with special strength pipe.

Nuzum said failure of the pipe is not anticipated but should this occur, replacement will cost the city an estimated $250,000.

Under questioning from Long Nuzum said it was not indicated that the two railroads would share in this cost should it occur. Finan noted that Engineers are proceeding on agreements made in 1945 and are "standing on them."

This sewer cost possibility will

Local Resident's Brother Figures In 'Bomber' Case

When New York's "Mad Bomber" comes to trial, Cumberland will have an interest in the proceedings.

The man making the initial investigation in the arrest of George Metesky, who conducted a 16-year reign of terror over New York by setting off bombs in public places, was Detective Lt. Joseph Cavanaugh, a brother of John J. (Bobby) Cavanaugh, basketball and baseball coach of Fort Hill High School.

Detective Cavanaugh, who spent the weekend in Cumberland visiting Mr. and Mrs. Cavanaugh, 506 Riehl Avenue, has been credited with doing an outstanding job in the Metesky case.

Lt. Cavanaugh said here yesterday that he made the first probe which later led to the "Bomber's" arrest four days before New York City detectives moved in.

A veteran of 21 years with the Waterbury (Conn.) Police Department, Lt. Cavanaugh was instructed on January 20 to make a "discreet" check on Metesky, last known by New York officials to be residing in Waterbury in 1935.

Not knowing the type of assignment he was on, Lt. Cavanaugh went to Metesky's home and talked with the "Bomber's" two sisters. While talking to the sisters he obtained a volume of information which he turned over to New York police. The "Bomber" was asleep in a nearby bedroom at the time.

Inspector Joseph K. Dunphy of the Waterbury Police told reporters that Lt. Cavanaugh had accomplished an efficient and valuable job. When Cavanaugh left the Metesky residence the "Mad Bomber" did not know he had made the visit.

Lt. Cavanaugh's questions were so discreet that the Metesky's believed that he had been there to investigate a minor automobile accident which had occurred in the neighborhood.

The Waterbury detective said yesterday that he had gained the confidence of the Metesky sisters to the point where they would not talk to reporters or also probably go on the agenda for the meeting with U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall and the Corps of Engineers concerning unanticipated costs of flood control to the city.

authorities unless he was present.

Several days after the "Mad Bomber" was apprehended, Cavanaugh returned to the Metesky home with Metesky for a final check of the residence. During the check he asked Metesky if he had any more bombs hidden in the house.

At first Metesky denied having more bombs, but during questioning he broke down and showed Lt. Cavanaugh where four bombs were hidden in back of the kitchen sink.

Lt. Cavanaugh said all four bombs were charged, and that Metesky admitted planning to plant one of the devices in New York's Coliseum where tens of thousands of people were visiting an auto show.

Cavanaugh's son, Joseph, a senior at the University of Connecticut, worked the past summer with Anna Metesky at the Waterbury Buckle Company.

Cavanaugh said a "Waterbury Homecoming" will feature the Bomber's trial in New York.

Metesky, Cavanaugh, James Murray, defense attorney, and Frank Hogan, New York prosecuting attorney, are all from the same section of Waterbury. Murray is known as one of the country's best criminal lawyers, Cavanaugh said.

Keegan Favors Local College

At suggestion of Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan, the Mayor and Council plans to go on record as favoring a college for Cumberland.

Plans for adoption of a resolution in that respect were made after Keegan said he did not see why a college is not located here.

"The time and need is here," he added.

There is a move under way to have a liberal arts college locate in Western Maryland.

Zoning Bill Hearing Set By Sen. See

State Senator Charles M. See said yesterday a hearing will be held Wednesday, February 20, at 3 p. m. in the Senate Office Building, Annapolis on Senate Bill 118, the LaVale zoning measure.

See said he scheduled the hearing after receiving a "lot of opposition" from residents of District 29.

Any one favoring or opposing the bill is welcome to attend the hearing. See said, adding that no further action will be taken until after the hearing date.

See also said he had received opposition to Senate Bill 111 which would require registration of pistols and other firearms. He said the opposition is coming from both individuals and organized groups. If the Judicial Committee plans further action on the bill, See said he would ask for a hearing.

Glass Is Being Produced At Plant In Mt. Savage

SA Officers Meet Slated

Captain Daniel Biggs, commander of the local Salvation Army, will attend an officers' council today through Thursday at Capon State Park near Berkeley Springs.

About 100 Salvation Army officers from Maryland and northern West Virginia will attend the annual event. They will discuss the work program for the coming month and hold a retreat.

Captain Biggs said that the program of remodeling and repainting of the Salvation Army Citadel on North Mechanic Street is underway. The auditorium and chapel has been painted, and walls and ceilings of the third floor are being replastered and painted.

None of the equipment or machinery of the burned out plant was saved and new equipment had to be purchased. Employees have done most of the work at the new plant, laying concrete floors in the big stone structure and constructing new furnaces.

Machinery installations were completed and furnace fires started last week.

Conveyors, a cracking machine where the lip edge of the glass-ware is finished, new lehrs, and other equipment were the last to be installed.

The plant uses gas-fired furnaces to heat the glass and then gradually cools it to make it crystal hard.

Old customers of the company have held up orders until the company was able to get back in business and there is a great demand for the fine flint glassware manufactured by the company, Hickle said. It is one of the few quality custom glassware plants in the country.

Fort Hill '47 Class To Hold Reunion Dinner Dance

May 25th has been selected as the date for the 10th reunion of the Fort Hill High School Class of 1947, which will be held in the form of a dinner dance. It will be at Clary Club, starting at 6:30 p.m.

Plans were made at a meeting of members of the class, held at the school Thursday evening. Robert Shroud and Joseph McCreary were elected chairmen, and Miss Shirley Sandsbury, secretary.

Committees appointed include Financial, Henry Roberson, chairman, assisted by John Boone and Eugene Martin; Social, William Linn and James Hinkle, co-chairmen, assisted by Louis Hoyle and James Proudfit; Program, Miss Dolores Chase; and Contact, Mrs. Sadie Koser, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Jacqueline Smith, Miss Shirley Hansroth, Miss Sandsbury, Paul Dunn and Raymond Smyth.

Another meeting will be held February 1 at the school, in room 115, starting at 7:30 p.m. Any member of the class interested is asked to come and assist.

First Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Miss Kuhlman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kuhlman, 15 Grand Avenue. She is a member of the Student Council of Girls Central, a member of the Glee Club and Bowling team. Her hobbies are sports and dancing.

The national winner in the third annual contest will be named May 2 at the American Table banquet in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York. General Mills is sponsor of the program designed to "assist schools in education for home and family living and to emphasize through a scholarship award program the personal qualities and sense of values necessary to successful homemaking."

Each state winner will receive a $1,500 scholarship and an educational trip with her school advisor to Washington, Williamsburg, Va., and New York City. A $500 scholarship will be awarded the runner-up girls in each state. The school of the state winner will receive a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica. The scholarship of the young woman named All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be increased to $5,000. This year for the first time girls who rank second, third and fourth in the national finals will receive $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships, respectively.

The Past Matrons and Past Patrons Association of Western Maryland will meet at 8 tomorrow evening at the Masonic Temple. The annual initiation of junior past matrons and past patrons of Allegany County OES chapters will be held.

W.Va. House Will Act On 10 Bills Today

Senate Views Appointee List

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 28.—The Legislature had little business at voting stage today as two minor bills were passed by the Senate and one by the House.

The House advanced 10 measures through amendment stage and up for passage tomorrow.

One passed by the Senate would permit investments of firemen's and policemen's pension or relief funds in state building and loan association or federal savings and loan associations—and in state and national banks—in amounts up to those insured by federal agencies.

The other bill, passed earlier by the House, would raise to not less than $5 nor more than $8 per day the pay for petit jury service. Current statutes put the pay at not less than $2 nor more than $5.

The Senate also read into the record today three letters dealing with gubernatorial nominees for appointive positions.

They included one written by former Gov. Marland on Jan. 12, including nine nominations; and another, three days later, by Gov. Underwood withdrawing all but one of those names.

The other letter read today came from Underwood under date of Jan. 27 nominating John A. Field Jr. of Charleston for State tax commissioner and George B. Vieweg Jr. of Wheeling as state purchasing director.

Senate rules require that once the appointment letters are read, a date must be set for consideration of the nominations, and President Bean (D-Hardy) set the matter for 2:15 p.m. Feb. 11.

Bean explained that the matter might be postponed further at that time. Such a step would hinge at least partially upon whether additional nominations by Underwood would be received at that date.

The only name on the Marland list Underwood did not withdraw was that of Insurance Commissioner Louie Miller Jr. of Charleston, nominated last Oct. 1 to fill the unexpired portion of a six-year term running through June 30, 1959.

After a brief argument the House voted 81-17 to send back to committee a bill by Del. Stevens (R-Mason) to repeal the State's motor vehicle inspection program, which has been in operation only two years.

The bill was sent to the floor without recommendation by the House Roads Committee. When it came up at amendment stage today, Majority Leader Myles (D-Fayette) moved that it be sent to the Judiciary Committee—a maneuver viewed as an attempt to kill the bill.

City Approves Use Of Airport For Car Races

The Mayor and Council yesterday granted permission to the Cumberland Lions Club to hold the 1957 National Sports Car Races on the Cumberland Municipal Airport May 17-19.

The action, subject to approval by the Civil Aeronautics Commission, was part of a four-point program backed by the Municipal Airport Commission. Action included:

C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, was asked to estimate the cost of an addition to the living quarters at the administration building of the airport.

Warren R. Mullens was granted the right to exercise his option to lease the port for another two years.

Accepted was a Commission recommendation that the city reject an offer to purchase a tract of land near the airport.

Equity Suit Filed

An equity suit was filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court for Ann L. Campbell, an infant, by her mother and next friend, Katherine Gillespie, vs. Lindwood Campbell.

Red Cross Begins Knitting Program

Mrs. Sidney Green, production chairman for Allegany County Chapter American Red Cross, has announced that yarn has arrived for knitting beanies for patients at the Veterans Hospital at Roanoke, Va.

Enough yarn in green, red and blue is available at the Red Cross office for making 100 of the knitted caps, and volunteers are wanted to do the knitting.

Mrs. George W. Legge, chapter secretary, noted yesterday that acknowledgements have been received for knitted helmets and lap robes made by the local chapter. Marjorie E. Manners, VA volunteer representative for the Red Cross at Newton D. Baker Hospital, Martinsburg, wrote a letter thanking the chapter for a number of lap robes.

George L. Rigos, assistant field director for the Red Cross at Presque Isle Air Force Base, Maine, expressed thanks for 41 knitted helmets needed by the men who man the base in that cold territory.

Mrs. Legge said special credit should go to Mrs. William Snyder of Carpenters Addition, Ridgeley, who knitted 10 of the 41 helmets.

The flag of the member nations of the United Nations are raised in alphabetical order.

Hyde Proposes More Money For Stream, Parks

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP) — More money for stream and valley parks in Maryland was proposed today by Rep. Hyde (Md.). This idea, he said, is to get additional land while it is still available.

In line with his proposal, Hyde offered a bill to permit unused funds approved under the Capper-Crampton Act to be used for the parks in Maryland.

Such funds for Maryland, he said, have been almost exhausted although some funds authorized under the 1930 act still remain available.

Hyde added that his bill does not call for an additional authorization but merely for the use of funds already approved.

Sunday School Awards Presented

Centenary Methodist Sunday school presented yearly awards to members for attendance records, according to Ward Wilson, superintendent.

Perfect attendance awards went to Cheryl Growden, eight years; Richard Growden, and Bessie Heavener, four years each; Mike Kubes, Janey Kubes, and Edwin Kubes, one year each.

Those missing only one Sunday included Edress Gillum, eight years; Ann Hardinger, four years; Judy Kubes, one year; Kenny Growden, five years; Herbert Heavener, three years; Joretta Heavener, four years; Harry Dicken, seven years; Warren White, seven years; David Wilhelm, three years; and Rebecca Wilhelm, four years.

Those missing only two Sundays were Bonnie Wilhelm, four years; Margaret Wilhelm, four years; Ward Wilson, four years; Lucille Heavener, six years; Janet White, eight years; and Jean Growden, one year.

Receiving awards for missing only three Sundays were Carol Growden, two years; Roger Wilhelm and Rose Ann Heavener, four years each; Deloris Gillum and Joyce White, eight years each; Ada Stine, ten years; Selma Gillum, Norma Jean Gillum, and Nora Gillum, seven years each; Betty Jane Wilhelm, five years; and Alice Heavener, three years.

Mrs. Charles Gillum is secretary of the Sunday school and Mrs. John Hardinger is assistant.

Optimists Will Host Other Service Clubs

The Cumberland Optimist Club will act as host to officers and board members of the other local service clubs during a special dinner meeting tomorrow at 6:15 p.m. in Central YMCA.

The 106th anniversary of the National YMCA and the 82d of the local YMCA are the reasons for the dinner and celebration. Lawrence Dehn, of the YMCA staff, will be in charge of the program.

Larceny Solved By Local Police

A series of thefts which occurred at a Washington Street residence over a period of about two months was cleared up by City Police yesterday following the questioning of a 17-year-old local girl.

City Police Detective Lt. James E. Van said that since November 1 of last year the following items had been taken from the home:

A quilted skirt, a diamond ring, two silver dollars, a brown alligator suitcase, a blue suitcase, a pair of pajamas, a portable radio and a white sweater.

Lt. Van said the ring, sweater and skirt have been recovered and that a telephone call to Lancaster, Pa., assured the return of the other items by February 9.

The girl was questioned yesterday and signed a statement in the presence of her mother. She was released in the custody of her parents. Assisting Van was Detective Thomas J. See. The total value of the stolen items was about $200.

Burke Board Member Of Nurses' Group

John G. Burke, 568 Fayette Street, was elected to the Maryland Licensed Practical Nurses Association as a board member for two years at a recent meeting at Baltimore City Hospital Nurses Home. Miss Idie Rudney, president, was in charge of the meeting and installed the officers.

Mr. Burke is a graduate of Mahanay Township High School, Mahanay City, Pa. He received his nurses training at Sacred Heart Hospital here and is employed on the staff of St. John's Hall at the hospital.

He is a veteran of World War II, is a member of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church and Holy Name Society, The Cana Club, The Louraona Veteran Unit, Men of Mansfield, Friars Guild and a teacher of the Archconfraternity of Christian Doctrine.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Burke, Shenandoah, Pa.

County Bills Are Advanced

The House of Delegates yesterday passed and sent to the Senate a bill sponsored by Delegate George F. S. Jeffrey and designed to aid older residents of this county.

The proposal, introduced as HB 95, would exempt from Allegany County taxes persons over 65 who earn less than $100 a month.

The Senate passed SB 126, sponsored by Senators Friend, See and Downey, to permit circuit courts of Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties to suspend sentences or grant probation under certain circumstances.

Mrs. Robert Gerson, chairman of volunteers will have charge and will conduct a part of the course. Mrs. Robert Neals will talk on her Red Cross experiences in Turkey and local Army recruiters, Sgt. Wesley Hartley and Sgt. Virgil Smith will show two films, "Red Cross Report for 1956" and "Prescription for Life."

Red Cross Gray Ladies Will Meet Thursday

An orientation class for Red Cross Gray Ladies will be held at the chapter offices in the Post Office Building Thursday at 1 p.m., according to Mrs. George W. Legge, chapter secretary.

An orientation class for Red Cross Gray Ladies will be held at the chapter offices in the Post Office Building Thursday at 1 p.m., according to Mrs. George W. Legge, chapter secretary.

The proposal, introduced as HB 95, would exempt from Allegany County taxes persons over 65 who earn less than $100 a month.

The Senate passed SB 126, sponsored by Senators Friend, See and Downey, to permit circuit courts of Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties to suspend sentences or grant probation under certain circumstances.

Mrs. Robert Gerson, chairman of volunteers will have charge and will conduct a part of the course. Mrs. Robert Neals will talk on her Red Cross experiences in Turkey and local Army recruiters, Sgt. Wesley Hartley and Sgt. Virgil Smith will show two films, "Red Cross Report for 1956" and "Prescription for Life."

Hungarians Urged To 'Come Home'

Dedicated Communists doggedly pursue their long-term aims in the face of all discouragements and rebuffs. The Red redefinition campaign is a striking case in point. After the blood bath in Hungary, a suspension of come-home appeals from behind the Iron Curtain was expected. But that just didn't happen. Long-time refugees from Eastern Europe in the United States noticed no let-up in their propaganda mail. The only difference was that appeals to Hungarians came from East Berlin instead of Budapest.

Now the Red government in Hungary is back in the business. Austria has finally agreed that a repatriation commission from Budapest may visit refugee camps in its territory and try to induce the occupants to come home—at least the skilled workers and others whose loss is severely felt. Recent reports out of Vienna say that 1,360 refugees are known to have returned. Delay over opportunities to emigrate overseas, conditions in the crowded camps, other disappointments, and perhaps just plain homesickness have been responsible.

The number going home is still proportionately small, but Austrian officials warn that a resettlement speedup is needed to stem growing refugee unrest. Vice President Nixon reported that a majority of the refugees he saw in Austria wanted to return when a change of government made it safe for them to do so. The danger now is that many will be persuaded to go back before it is safe.

These Days

Humphrey v. Eisenhower

Obviously the Secretary of the Treasury is not quarreling with the President. Quite apart from the personal relations between George Humphrey and Dwight D. Eisenhower, which are close and cordial, a member of the President's Cabinet does not have a public row with the President and remain in the Cabinet. That is not customary even among friends.

Therefore this is something else, namely, that the technical economists on the White House staff are followers of John Maynard Keynes and believe in deficit financing which is a mirage that gives the impression of prosperity without its substance, and George Humphrey, unusually successful businessman, does not believe in deficit financing. His tart phrase on the subject is: "I don't think you can spend yourself rich."

President Eisenhower, instead of keeping this quarrel over a fundamental principle of economics and life, inside the White House, has thrown it into the open for public discussion. In fact, he has thrown it into the lap of Congress and has told Congress to cut his huge, out-of-line budget, if it can. Congress wonders why the cutting was not done before the Budget was sent to it. The difficulty that Congress faces is that since Roosevelt it has become accustomed to the President almost dictating the Budget whereas the function of appropriations is constitutionally reserved to the Congress and should originate in the House of Representatives.

What portends is that the White House, the Treasury and the Congress seem to give the impression that they are preparing for a recession; that President Eisenhower does not believe it will occur in this fiscal year and that he is ready for it; that Secretary of the Treasury, George Humphrey, believes that unless correct policies are pursued such a recession could drift into a depression—that "will curl your hair," and that Congress is scared that it might come before the 1958 election and that the voters will follow their time-honored custom of kicking the rascals out.

The old school-boy adage is that whatever goes up must come down and even in the physics of Einstein and the atomic age, this rule holds. So obviously, when government expenditures are too high and the national debt is too high and taxes are too high and prices are too high, something must come down or there will be an explosion.

So far as John Q. Public, to use an ancient and time-worn phrase, is concerned, taxes and prices can come down right now and he would like to put some away each week despite all the fringe securities that have been guaranteed to him. And he is not as afraid of inflation as the politician is because he has lived with inflation for several years and it does not frighten him; it only makes him pay more dollars for less groceries in the super-market. If he can get more groceries for less money, he will be pleased. Also he is getting very tired of taking care of the Indians and the Ceylonese and the Saudi Arabians and he is also tired of the Cold War with Soviet Russia and he wishes that we would hand world leadership over to the British or whoever wants it and can afford to pay for it. In fact, most Americans are tired of all these queer peoples who want aid but will only take it unconditionally, with no strings attached, as though they were doing us a very great favor by taking our money.

Perhaps that is why the Mad Bomber became such a tremendous news sensation. He provided an escape from the wordiness of political pronouncements and a relief from the dry rot which has set in among those who are supposed to have ideals. The President's Second Inaugural, while a noble document that could bring comfort to the Moroccans and Algerians, did not stir the American soul which would have cheered with unmistakable furor, a 10 per cent income tax cut across the board.

George Humphrey has always been something of a philosophic economist among businessmen and is nobody's goose who will follow a line worked out in committee. He has stood alone on other occasions and made a considerable fortune for himself and built strong companies when less adventuresome men were wailing that a depression had hit the land.

What Will—And Won't—The 85th Congress Do?

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

The unpredictable almost always happens in each session of Congress, which may make what follows rather amusing reading a few months from now. Yet here, for what it is worth, is what those in the best position to judge believe the 85th Congress will do—and will not do—in the coming session.

The "Eisenhower Doctrine" will pass more or less intact. A great many legislators on both sides of the aisle thoroughly dislike the whole business, especially the open-ended $200 million Middle Eastern aid fund.

A vote for foreign aid in any form is increasingly politically risky these days, and the kind of blank check the President has asked for is especially risky. Yet the risks involved in not giving the President what he wants are even greater. The President will therefore get what he wants, perhaps with a few strings attached, and after the Democrats have given Secretary Dulles a painful going-over.

There will be the annual row about the defense program, and Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson will also experience a painful going-over. The Air Force budget may again get a token increase. Yet partly because there is no political mileage in bucking Gen. Eisenhower on the defense issue, and partly because Congress is simply not equipped to make defense policy, the Administration program will go through without real change.

The big row of the session will, of course, be about civil rights. Both Democrats and Republicans have read the election returns from the areas with heavy Negro voting populations, the former with dismay, the latter with delight. There is thus for the first time in both parties a majority which really wants to vote for some sort of civil rights legislation.

year, and that it will thus again be killed.

The prospects for a bill freeing natural gas from federal control, which the President vetoed last year and has now included in his legislative program, are less good than is generally supposed. The reason is simple. Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn were infuriated by the President's veto. They are therefore in no mood to fight, bleed, and die for a gas bill, as they did last year.

Johnson will not lift a finger to push a gas bill in the Senate, unless it first passes the House. Last year it barely passed the

Congressmen Conceal Heavy Costs Of Junkets At Citizens' Expense

By Drew Pearson

Clellan and Stennis decided to go home early and demanded a special Air Force plane. Because of the split party, the Air Force sent two empty planes all the way across the Atlantic to pick them up at an estimated cost of $20,000. When this got to the papers, McClellan hastily arranged commercial transportation for his wife, and both Senators demanded an apology from the Defense Department for embarrassing them.

One reason for the secrecy is to conceal from the public how much money Congressional tourists blow on extravagances. The public has a right to know, however, how their legislators spend the taxpayers' money, especially the fact that an all-time spending record was probably set by Senators Chavez of New Mexico, McClellan of Arkansas, Stennis of Mississippi, and Saltonstall of Massachusetts, who made a lavish tour through European and Mediterranean countries in late 1955.

This column has tried for a year to find out how much this de luxe trip cost the taxpayers. Now the extravagant facts can be told.

McClellan and Stennis took along their wives. Chavez brought his son, Dennis Jr.; personal physician, Dr. William Lovelace of Albuquerque; lawyer, A. T. Hannett; secretary, Frances Ortiz; and assorted assistants, Charles Davis, Walter Stewart, Gloria Butland, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Merrick.

They traveled on government planes and ships, so the transportation costs can only be estimated. In Spain, Senators Mc-

Cellan and Stennis were spending $37,810.11 for hotels, night clubs, excursions, souvenirs, and the like. They claimed only $1,093 of this was personal; the remaining $36,717.11 was paid by the taxpayers as "official."

Most of their "official" expenses were run up in Paris, Rome and Madrid. They spent $11,004.55 in Spain, $8,393.66 in Italy, and $6,062.84 in France. Next highest bill was charged up in England for $4,674.80. Yet they stayed no more than a week in any country.

They were supposed to be inspecting military installations. But their expense vouchers didn't sound very military. Instead, the vouchers from Italy, for example, listed taxis on the Isle of Capri, cocktails at Piazza, Blue Grotto excursion, trip to Pompeii, rental of autos in Naples.

A note to the State Department from John G. Bacon, Embassy attaché in Rome, reported: "I paid all expenses up to date including rental of vehicles, whisky, Kleenex, etc."

A voucher from London listed Navy wine, Embassy wine, Dorchester Hotel reception, H. J. Adams theater tickets, and Daimler Hire of Cars. At the bottom, this note was added: "Items for which no receipts obtainable included 60 boxes of Kleenex, two cartons of cigarettes, Wedgewood china, tips."

For one day in Edinburgh, Scotland, a State Department cable reported: "All expenses Chavez group in Edinburgh paid by Wilber (Edward B. Wilber, State Department representative accompanying the Senators). Advances made to him by D. O. London. Known expenses hotel, rental of private automobiles, dollar equivalent $928.20."

Dublin Was Cheap

Cheapest side trip was made to Dublin for only $536.93. Yet the Senators didn't exactly economize. For example, they ran up a $140 bill in Dublin with Cyril McCormack & Co., Ltd., for use of three Austin Princess limousines, three Humber Pullman limousines, and three Dodge sedans.

The big bills were paid by the State Department representative out of counterpart funds — local currency paid for American aid. But the Senators also drew generous amounts of the taxpayers' money for their "personal expenses."

In Paris, Saltonstall drew $453 to cover his out-of-pocket expenses. In Rome, Chavez took $594.09, Stennis $361.89, McClellan $250.38, and Saltonstall $238.57. In London, McClellan drew $244.08, Chavez $183.11, Stennis $187.08, and Saltonstall $69.70.

Biggest spender was a Senator, however, but Chavez's playboy son, Dennis Jr. He signed vouchers for over $3,000 worth of Spanish posetas in Madrid, part of which was spent in night clubs.

There is no breakdown on his spending in other countries, though a note from Marcelle Leconte of the American Embassy in Paris states: "I am still keeping other blank receipts as I have not completely settled all the bills incurred by Dennis Chavez Jr., and others."

Yet young Chavez was not even on the Senate payroll until he was hastily appointed to the Appropriations Committee staff in Europe and authorized by his father to draw spending money.

At the end of this free-spending trip, J. E. Hargrove, Administrative Officer in the Jordan Embassy, wrote a sympathetic note to Ed Wilber, who herded the party around Europe and the Middle East.

"I am sure," wrote Hargrove, "that you are always glad when these jaunts are over, for I would imagine that they will try the patience of anyone having to look after all of the needs of the official and unofficial group."

Sen. Frank Lausche, the bushy-haired Democrat from Ohio, is worried that he may be a flop as a Senator. He has asked colleagues why ex-Senator Duff of Pennsylvania, who, like Lausche, had been a very popular Governor, made such a poor showing as Senator. Lausche also went to Senator Pastore of Rhode Island, another ex-Governor, for advice. Pastore recommended that he forget he had been Governor, keep his fingers out of Ohio state affairs, and concentrate on being a Senator . . . Congressman Carl Vinson of Georgia read a Merry-Go-Round report that freshman Congressmen don't want to serve on his committee because he's too dictatorial. After reading the story, Vinson told colleagues that he now intends to show other Congressmen how tough he really can be . . . Senator Kerr of Oklahoma plans to introduce a resolution to force Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey to use 10 per cent of the tax receipts each year to reduce the public debt.

BRIEFLY

The husbands hardest to hold are actors, traveling salesmen and bartenders. So recent divorce records reveal. Actors and traveling salesmen have always been difficult to handle as husbands. As for bartenders, that is a comparatively recent development. The average bartender of the yesteryear was a good steady family man. That was when women were not welcomed in barrooms.

PEACE

In 3,500 years the world has had only 350 years of peace. Wars have been going on 90 per cent of the time. Nearly all the wars of the past 3,500 years have been caused by the wish of one nation to get raw materials possessed by another.

GET IT RIGHT

Note the rumba described as "a South American dance." That is erroneous. Get it right. The tango is a South American dance. The rumba is a Cuban dance. Do you recall the song titled "When Yuba Played The Rumba On His Tuba"? The best rumba tune of all time, in my opinion, is "The Peanut Vendor."

Allegany, LaSalle, Fort Hill Play At Home Tonight

Blackhawks, Valley, Hubs Are Visitors

Piedmont Invades Beall; Four PVC Battles Listed

Fresh from upset victories over Piedmont and the West Virginia School for the Deaf, Coach Tom O'Connor's Ridgeley High School Blackhawks will visit Campobello tonight with the intention of smashing two winning streaks credited to an Allegany High School quint that has copped 12 out of 13 games this season.

Like the West Virginia Deaf School and Piedmont games, Ridgeley will be out to atom for a 77-61 defeat at the hands of the Campers. The Blackhawks lost the opening games of their series with Piedmont and WVS, but they spilled both clubs in the second contest to square accounts.

Handed AHS Last Defeat

Allegany has a nine-game winning streak going and has reeled off 15 consecutive wins on its home floor since early last season. And it was Ridgeley High that handed the Campers their last defeat at Campobello on January 3, 1956. The score was 53-44. The Campers, however, evened up matters by winning in Ridgeley, 71-64.

Ridgeley has won its last three games and owns a season record of eight wins and six losses.

LaSalle and Fort Hill also have games on their home courts to night.

Mel Henry brings his North Hagerstown High School quint here for a return game with Fort Hill's Sentinels. Hagerstown bagged the opener on its home floor, 56-34, and has a record of eight wins and four defeats. Fort Hill is having one of its worst seasons and has dropped nine games while winning three.

A victory would enable North Hagerstown to tie Martinsburg for first place in the Cumberland Valley Athletic League. The Bulldogs are setting the pace with 3-1 record. Frederick and North Hagerstown are 2-1 and Fort Hill 6-4.

Valley At LaSalle

Valley High School's Black Knights crushed LaSalle on December 7 by the score of 68-38 and will be out to sweep the series tonight when the teams collide on SS. Peter and Paul court. Valley, a contender for W. M. I. League and county Class B honors, comes here with a 10-4 record. LaSalle dropped below the .500 mark Friday by losing to Allegany and now the Explorers' record is six wins and seven losses.

Beall High School clobbered Piedmont High School earlier in the campaign on the Piedmont floor by the score of 79-49 and will be out to sweep the series when it meets "Huck" Miers' Lions tonight at Frostburg. Beall is having a good season and has won 10 out of 12 games. Piedmont, the leader of the Potomac Valley Conference with 7-1 record, has an overall mark of nine victories and three losses.

Bruce High School (4-8) concludes its series with Fort Ashby at Westernport. The Bulldogs won at Fort Ashby, 61-55. After winning six of their first 10 games, the Eagles went on the toboggan and have dropped their last five.

Four PVC Games Listed

Four Potomac Valley Conference games are on tap for tonight. Berkley Springs is at Moorefield, Capon Bridge at Wardensville, Paw Paw at Romney and Circleville at Franklin.

Other games on tonight's card include Mt. Savage at South Hagerstown, Oldtown at Hyndman, Flintstone at Bruce Jayeves, Southern at Terra Alta Sanders at Aurora, Bedford at Saxton and Frederick at Sherwood.

Brooks Hire Clown To Relieve Tension

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (INS) — The Brooklyn Dodgers announced today that veteran circus clown Emmett Kelly has been hired to "relieve the tension at Ebbets Field."

Brooklyn president Walter O'Malley, in announcing the signing, said Kelly would appear at Brooklyn home games in Ebbets Field and Jersey City, N. J., as well as at games of the Montreal and Fort Worth farm teams when the Dodgers are on the road.

Kelly has been a circus clown for 36 years.

Parsons Tops Blue Angels

Gutshall's Foul Goals Win, 79-78

WESTERNPORT, Jan. 28 — The Blue Angels of Victory Post, American Legion, went down to defeat at the hands of St. John's Club yesterday at Parsons by the score of 79-78.

LaSalle and Fort Hill also have games on their home courts to night.

Mel Henry brings his North Hagerstown High School quint here for a return game with Fort Hill's Sentinels. Hagerstown bagged the opener on its home floor, 56-34, and has a record of eight wins and four defeats. Fort Hill is having one of its worst seasons and has dropped nine games while winning three.

A victory would enable North Hagerstown to tie Martinsburg for first place in the Cumberland Valley Athletic League. The Bulldogs are setting the pace with 3-1 record. Frederick and North Hagerstown are 2-1 and Fort Hill 6-4.

Valley At LaSalle

Valley High School's Black Knights crushed LaSalle on December 7 by the score of 68-38 and will be out to sweep the series tonight when the teams collide on SS. Peter and Paul court. Valley, a contender for W. M. I. League and county Class B honors, comes here with a 10-4 record. LaSalle dropped below the .500 mark Friday by losing to Allegany and now the Explorers' record is six wins and seven losses.

Beall High School clobbered Piedmont High School earlier in the campaign on the Piedmont floor by the score of 79-49 and will be out to sweep the series when it meets "Huck" Miers' Lions tonight at Frostburg. Beall is having a good season and has won 10 out of 12 games. Piedmont, the leader of the Potomac Valley Conference with 7-1 record, has an overall mark of nine victories and three losses.

Bruce High School (4-8) concludes its series with Fort Ashby at Westernport. The Bulldogs won at Fort Ashby, 61-55. After winning six of their first 10 games, the Eagles went on the toboggan and have dropped their last five.

Four PVC Games Listed

Four Potomac Valley Conference games are on tap for tonight. Berkley Springs is at Moorefield, Capon Bridge at Wardensville, Paw Paw at Romney and Circleville at Franklin.

Other games on tonight's card include Mt. Savage at South Hagerstown, Oldtown at Hyndman, Flintstone at Bruce Jayeves, Southern at Terra Alta Sanders at Aurora, Bedford at Saxton and Frederick at Sherwood.

Elks Lead By 11 Over K. Of C. Team

The first match of a home-and-home series, the B.P.O. Elks bowling team won from the Knights of Columbus Saturday on the Elks Home lanes by the margin of 119 pins.

The Knights won the 7 o'clock shift 49 sticks but lost the nightcap by 175 sticks.

Vic Wonn was the high scorer for the Elks with 204-249-533. Tom McGeady was the Knights' best with 202-552.

A return match will be rolled later in the season on the Club Recreation alleys. Total pins in the series will determine the winner.

Brooks Hire Clown To Relieve Tension

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (INS) — The Brooklyn Dodgers announced today that veteran circus clown Emmett Kelly has been hired to "relieve the tension at Ebbets Field."

Brooklyn president Walter O'Malley, in announcing the signing, said Kelly would appear at Brooklyn home games in Ebbets Field and Jersey City, N. J., as well as at games of the Montreal and Fort Worth farm teams when the Dodgers are on the road.

Kelly has been a circus clown for 36 years.

Mountaineer Tops Coalton In Overtime

Posts 9th Victory, Evens Series, 62-58

THOMAS, W. Va., Jan. 28 — Mountaineer High School rallied in an overtime period tonight to defeat Coalton High School and avenged an earlier defeat at the hands of the Randolph countians. The score was 62-58.

The regulation game ended with the score knotted at 57-57 and in the overtime stanza Brodie earned two trophies in the Pen-Mar last year, one for topping the pitchers with a 9-1 record, and the other for being the league's strikeout king with 99 whiffs to his credit.

WHEN the Fort Hill Jaycees clobbered Martinsburg the other night on the latter's court in a rough and tumble affair, 74-52, Charley Robinson of the Kent Avenue Robinsons, slammed in 34 points for Coach Bill Kirk's quint.

In 1953 he hurled for Keyser Ridge in the Pen-Mar and won two games late in the season. The following season he was with West Virginia of the All-States League, winning six and losing none. In 1955 with Zihlman of the Pen-Mar he bagged eight decisions and lost one game. He alternated on the mound and first base for Zihlman last year and batted .288.

At West Virginia, Brodie will be a candidate for the freshman team this year.

REGIS FAIR, LaSalle High School grad, who paced the hitters in the Bi-State Conference last season, also is at West Virginia and will be among the candidates for catcher on the Mountaineer frosh team.

RICHARD "Dick" Buskey, assistant pro at the Cumberland Country Club, is changing from Rock N' Roll to Swing and Sway since going to Florida as assistant pro at the Palm Beach Golf Club, according to Carroll Boggs.

Buskey has informed Boggs that he likes the setup at Palm Beach and among those to whom he has been giving golf lessons is Sammy Kaye, the noted orchestra leader, of Swing and Sway fame.

PEOPLE are funny, including the horse players who yell to the high heavens about the tax bite on wagering yet leave their winnings at the track.

J. Glenn Beall, Jr., treasurer of the Cumberland Fair Association, reports that un-cashed mutual tickets for 12 days at Fairgo last September amounted to $1,623.60. Over a three-year period the amount unclaimed totaled $4,232.40.

The uncashed tickets annually must be held at a local bank for three years then turned over to the state treasury. The tracks do not get a cent of that money.

FINAL RITES were conducted yesterday for J. Monroe Sharer, 53, one of the most loyal backers of the Cumberland Colts in the days of the Middle Atlantic Baseball League.

The well known local heating and plumbing contractor, who died Saturday of a heart attack, was the father of Fred Sharer, Fort Hill grad and now W&J student, who covered football and basketball games for the News in recent years.

"Munn" was among the group of regulars who seldom missed the Colts' games at Mid-City Park where they occupied seats in the bleachers back of first base and rooted to their heart's content.

SHARER has been a baseball fan since his grammar school days. In 1916 he served as treasurer of the first Grammar School League formed here. John E. Edwards, county superintendent, was president; Lyndon JACK BRODIE, 21, leading pitcher of the Pen-Mar Baseball League for the past two years, has received a scholarship from West Virginia University and heads for Morgantown today to register.

Brodie, a southpaw, earned two trophies in the Pen-Mar last year, one for topping the pitchers with a 9-1 record, and the other for being the league's strikeout king with 99 whiffs to his credit.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 28 (INS) — My introduction to Pamela Cum-mer, five feet six inches, with reddish gold hair, came a few hours after the New York actress flew in to be in "Desk Set." Pamela had already been signed she told me, for "The Ziegfeld Follies" when the offer to be directed by Walter Lang in the Katharine Hepburn - Spencer Tracy epic came to her. She also gets to kiss Spencer in one of her scenes.

Pamela was given two weeks off but she'll be back in New York for the opening of "The Ziegfeld Follies." She's had seven magazine covers and she has sung in the Stork Club in New York as well as Miami.

I talked to her in between time when Walter and Henry Ephron the producer, were having her photographed.

Although over 10,000 feet of background film on "The Good Shepherd" has been shot and Randall MacDougal, the writer-director, has spent a year and a half on preparation, Harry Cohn has done nothing about finding a replacement for Humphrey Bogart.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

The N. Richard Nash will become parents this summer. He authored "The Rainmaker" and
"Girls of Summer."

Eve Arden's daughter, Connie, dumped her entire piggy bank savings into a wishing well, and promptly said, "I wish I had my money back."

Errol Flynn, who won himself
some money on the Big Surprise TV show, has been signed for the first western done by Playhouse 90.

Had a nice telegram from Rowan and Martin, whom I first saw in Las Vegas. They're a great pair of comics and killed the people when they opened at the Statler-Hilton in Dallas.

Rose Kwong, only Chinese woman producer, is here from Hong Kong looking over movie studios and movie stars.

When Arlene Francis' actor-husband, Martin Gable, appeared on the panel show, "What's My Line?", Director Richard Thorne of MGM saw him and signed him for "Tip on a Dead Jockey."

Jackie Collins, 19-year-old sister of Joan, telephones that she has been signed to star in England's first rock 'n' roll picture,
"Rock You Sinner."

I look to see a whole rash of calypso pictures made now that it's the rage.

Gene Kelly is discussion a Cole
Porter musical with Arthur Freed. He'd be co-starred with Perry Como. That's one I want to see.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thirsty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunk that they fail to excite or stimulate the ure to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONAI
the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAI's great moisturiz-

The bidding:

South West North East
1 no trump Pass 2 no trump Pass

Opening lead: King of diamonds.

I tell today's story with feeling,

because as East I was the victim of South's accurate play at the Winter Carnival tournament at St.
Paul, the last time I participated in it. Declarer was Leo J. Seewald.

Over the week-end of Feb. 3, King Boreas will again preside at this carnival which for many years has been one of the most colorful in the country.

South just about made the grade for an opening bid of one no trump, and North with 11 points, naturally went to three himself.

West opened the king of diamonds, and East, perfide, played the eight, South, hopeful of a continuation, ducked the trick, but West could read the eight of diamonds as partner's lowest, for when South played the three all lower than the eight were in sight.

He, therefore, abandoned the suit and shifted to the deuce of hearts. East's jack was permitted to hold, and the king of hearts came back. This made it clear enough that East hadn't more diamonds, for if he had, surely he would have chosen to establish the suit which partner had led.

At this point it appeared to declarer that West had five diamonds and four hearts. This would allot East three hearts (presumably king-queen-jack) and a single diamond. Declarer took the second heart lead, cashed the king of clubs and ran the four spades.

When each of the defenders followed three times, the hand was open to a complete count. West had originally five diamonds, four hearts, three spades, and a club.
Since West had already followed to a club he is now marked as void of the suit, and the club fineness must fail.

However, declarer was sure of an end play which would operate against either defender. He has lost, up to this point, two tricks, and the lead is given up with a heart. If West takes those tricks he will be compelled to lead a diamond into South's ace-jack. If East wins the heart, nature will force him to lead a club. Declarer got out with a heart and East was in. The jack of clubs became declarer's ninth trick.

Seewald.

Teacher Pay Raise Bill Introduced

Money Would Come From Penny Boost In State Sales Tax

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 28 (AP) — Raises for school teachers which would be financed by increasing the sales tax from 2 to 3 cents popped into the Legislature from an unexpected source tonight.

The bills to grant an $800 yearly raise within the next two years and the accompanying sales tax increase were introduced by Del. Culotta, (R-Balto 3d).

Majority Floor Leader Boone (D-Balto) arose promptly on the floor to say he'd "like to know if any devious motive" were behind the introduction by a Republican.

"I wonder what voice we're hearing," Boone said. "I wonder if there is a ventriloquist in the wings. It's the voice of Sam (Culotta), but the hand of Al Quinn, assistant to Gov. McKel-

The gentleman (Culotta) usually speaks in opposition to this type of legislation."

It has become accepted around the Statehouse that McKelvin is opposed to more state aid for teacher salaries, and feels it is up to the counties to supply money for the pay boosts.

Boone recalled that last year Culotta had quoted a poem upholding the governor's veto of a teachers' raise. The poem was a parody on Edgar Allan Poe's "The Raven" which repeated "the Raver nevermore." Milson Raver is the leading lobbyist for a teacher's increase.

Boone gave Culotta a chance to respond on the floor, but the Republican didn't.

In a statement issued before the session, Culotta said he introduced the bills because the elected leaders of the Legislature hadn't and he wanted hearings on the teachers' pay subject.

In the Senate, public education was the chief topic.

Majority Leader Turnbull (D-Balto County), taking the floor on a point of personal privilege, noted that the Statehouse corridors were crowded with pro-segregationists wearing "Support Separate Schools" tags.

Turnbull said he would like to "serve notice" that persons seeking to influence legislation are required to register as lobbyists with the secretary of state.

After the session, more than 300 persons attended a hearing on a resolution backing the election, instead of appointment, of county school board members in Dorchester County. The resolution, approved by Better Schools for Dorchester County, Inc., asked the county's legislators to sponsor legislation to set up the school board elections.

C. Awdry Thompson, counsel for the group, presented three speakers in favor of the proposal. There were no opposition speeches.

The governor signed his first 25 bills of the session. The only one of significance was to close what the Court of Appeals has ruled is a loophole in the tax law.

It will permit the Sales Tax

Mothers March On Polio In County Tonight

Porch Lights To Brighten Way

Tonight from 7 to 9 o'clock, in all parts of the city and county, several hundred women will make their annual Mother's March on polio to help raise funds in the continuing war against the crippling malady.

Workers in every town will attempt to raise at least half of the $25,000 quota set earlier as the campaign goal.

The collection center will be at the headquarters of Allegany County League for Crippled Children, City Hall Plaza, where returns will be tabulated and money counted and wrapped so it can be banked. A crew of volunteers appointed by the campaign committee will be on hand throughout most of the night completing this

Driver Of Auto In Fatal Mishap Is Fined $100

The 20-year-old driver of a car involved in a fatal accident last October was fined $100 and costs yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court on a state motor vehicle charge.

The state asked that a second charge against George Edward Wilhelm of RD 1, Hyndman, Pa., be dismissed after the youth pleaded guilty to leaving the scene of the fatal accident.

Wilhelm was operating a car which struck and killed Warren Lee Hice, 37, of Mt. Savage on October 20 about 11:50 p. m. The accident occurred on State Route 36 in Barrellville.

Tfc. D. A. Tucker said Wilhelm saw Hice walking along the highway in Barrellville. The driver said he swerved his car to the left but was unable to avoid hitting Hice. Testimony indicated Hice was walking on the shoulder of the road with his back to traffic.

Wilhelm then left the scene of the accident, was apprehended later by two witnesses, who brought him back and turned him over to authorities.

Hice was dead on arrival at Sacred Heart Hospital in Cumberland, suffering a broken neck and various other injuries.

Wilhelm later was released on $1,000 bond for action of the January grand jury but was not indicted.

The state then pressed the motor vehicle charge and Wilhelm was tried in Trial Magistrates Court yesterday before Magistrate Donald W. Mason.

"Control of Blue Comet" will be the subject of Dr. Glotfelty's talk. He is a former Garrett County 4-H boy who now is a chicken and turkey producer.

County Agent Joseph M. Steger said the program will begin with a motion picture on some phase of poultry.

Dr. H. M. DeVolt, poultry specialist at the University of Maryland, will talk and lead a discussion on "Respiratory Diseases of Poultry."

Wade H. Rice, another poultry specialist, will discuss "Cage Layers" in remarks starting at 11 a. m. designed to stress the advantages and disadvantages of this system. Mr. Rice will be welcomed at the meeting. At the last meeting, Dr. James Stegmaier was guest speaker.

All members, former members and interested volunteers will be welcomed at the meeting. At the last meeting, Dr. James Stegmaier was guest speaker.

Cloudy Skies, Cold Weather Forecast

The unofficial temperature was rather consistent all day yesterday by remaining at 38 degrees.

Early yesterday morning rain which turned to ice made highway travel hazardous in the western portion of Allegany County and in Garrett County.

By noon the ice had turned to slush with the rise of temperatures. Rain was falling in the general area last night. Mostly cloudy skies are forecast for today with temperatures in the high 40s and low 50s expected.

The weatherman promises colder weather tonight. Occasional rain was forecast today in West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Eight-Hour Parkers Termed Problem Here

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan yesterday appealed to residents of this city to cooperate in solving the city's parking problems.

The greatest offenders at present, he said, are eight-hour parkers, who leave their cars in the downtown area during working hours.

County Leaders To Hear Plea For United Fund

Meeting Set In Court House Tuesday

The establishment of an Allegany County United Fund will be recommended next Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at a public meeting in the Court House.

The meeting, to be held in the Circuit Court room, was called by William R. Carsaden, who is chairman of the executive committee named to study and report on the possibility and feasibility of consolidating fund-raising activities now carried on by various youth, health and welfare agencies.

Invitations to attend the report meeting have been extended to all members of the citizens committee, officials of all Allegany County communities, leaders of business, labor and industry heads of all fund-raising organizations and officials of charity organizations in industries of the area.

Reports Are Slated

Mr. Carsaden said the civic leaders of all the communities also were urged to extend invitations to other civic leaders, so the attendance will be representative of the entire county.

Business will include reports of all study committees authorized by the Citizens Committee to explore the United Fund program.

The United Fund which will be recommended, it was pointed out, will be an organization of givers who will work for the benefit of all charitable organizations of the county.

To Conduct Concert

Prof. Parker B. Wagnild, founder and director of the Gettysburg College Choir of 60 voices, will conduct a concert of sacred music Saturday at 8 p. m. at St. Luke's Lutheran Church. Head of the Gettysburg College Music Department since its inception in 1951, Professor Wagnild went to Gettysburg in 1955 and organized the choir, which has made extensive tours throughout the Eastern and Southern states every year since then.

Liberty Trust Elects Officers And Directors

Charles A. Piper was re-elected president of the Liberty Trust Company yesterday afternoon at a board of directors meeting held after the annual stockholders meeting.

Other officers elected were Charles G. Holzshu, vice president and secretary; John J. Robinson, vice president and trust officer; Thomas L. Keech, vice president and treasurer; George C. Cook, vice president; Thomas J. McNamee, assistant vice president; G. Morgan Smith, assistant vice president; Edward M. McNamee, comptroller; W. A. Fraley Jr., assistant treasurer; William C. Dudley, assistant secretary; R. William Holt, assistant secretary; Cameron L. Otto, assistant secretary and manager of LaVale branch of the bank; Margaret H. Wonn, assistant trust officer; Calvin S. Keiter, assistant manager, personal loan department; and James G. McElvie, manager of Lonaconing branch of the bank.

Mr. Otto was named manager of the LaVale branch bank because of his experience in the main Cumberland office. He is well known in the LaVale area, where he resides.

Walter A. Fraley Jr., assistant treasurer of the bank, was sent to the LaVale branch bank at the time of its opening in order to supervise its beginning operations. He will return to the main Cumberland office where he will be in charge of home improvement loans, payrolls and other treasurer duties.

The following directors were re-elected at the noon meeting of the stockholders yesterday:

The stockholders were informed of the progress of the bank during the year 1956, total assets at the end of the year being $28,243,129.13 against $23,315,553.44 at the end of 1955.

Approximately $2,800,000 of the increase in assets is represented by the merger of the Commercial Savings Bank with The Liberty Trust Company, which became effective July 31, 1956.
